REPORT FROM THE LEGISLATURE

November 19 to 25 was Manufacturing Week in Saskatchewan, a week dedicated to recognizing the province's nearly 2,000 manufacturers for their significant contributions to our economy.

Their hard work and dedication help create opportunities for people who call our province home, employing more than 31,000 Saskatchewan workers. Manufacturing businesses create sustainable products that are exported around the world.

Saskatchewan continues to receive good news on its economy. Investment in building construction was up 18.5 per cent from September 2023 over August 2023. Numbers were also up 7.6 per cent in September 2023 compared to September 2022. These changes place our province third and second highest among the provinces. Investment in building construction is an indicator of growth for Saskatchewan's economy, showing that businesses and families are choosing our great province to live, work and build a family.

Our government continues to work to build and protect our economy. Recently, our government responded to the federal government's proposed Clean Electricity Regulations. The proposed regulations impose a net-zero electricity grid across Canada by 2035, which will leave Saskatchewan families paying more than double to keep the power on.

We call on the federal government to recognize our government's plan to achieve net zero by 2050 while maintaining an energy mix that ensures reliable baseload power and affordable rates for generations to come. Our government will not risk the affordability and reliability of Saskatchewan's power grid to attempt the impossible based on an arbitrary federal emissions target and timeline.

Our growing economy allows our government to continue to invest in our youth. Our government recently announced Holocaust education will be a compulsory component of the renewed Social Studies 10 curriculum – a provincial graduation requirement. The renewed curriculum will be introduced to high school students for the 2025-26 school year. It is important for our youth to learn about the atrocities committed during the Holocaust to reduce hate and discrimination within Saskatchewan and beyond. Our government will work with the Jewish community for their input into the content as well as involve teachers and other content experts in the process of the curriculum renewal and implementation.

Our government continues to invest in programs and services that matter to the people of Saskatchewan. A Child Support Service will be launched to assist parents experiencing separation and divorce and to calculate initial child support without having to go through a family court process that can be costly and complex. This will reduce some of the financial burden and allow parents to focus on the well-being of their children.

Our government also continues to ensure that families and friends can access support in difficult situations. Family Service Saskatchewan has been recently selected to provide a new provincial suicide loss program. The program will support the immediate psychological needs of people affected by the loss of someone who died by suicide or survived with significant injury or trauma.

The Rapid Access Counselling for Suicide Loss Program will be available in early 2024.

International Holodomor Day, recognized on the fourth Saturday of November and, this year landing on November 25, a special service was recently held at the Legislative Building to commemorate Holodomor. Our government was joined by the local Ukrainian community to commemorate the millions who died during the 1932-33 famine in Ukraine. We join our Saskatchewan citizens of Ukrainian heritage to remember this dark time and honour those lost. A memorial candle was lit to represent unity with those around the world marking the Holodomor genocide.

As we continue to move forward with the Fall session, your questions and concerns help me represent your best interests in the legislature. I look forward to hearing from you! Feel free to reach out to my constituency office at ken.cheveldayoff.mla@sasktel.net or call 306.651.7100.

HONOURING THE CAREER OF JOHN GORMLEY

I was pleased to have the opportunity to rise in the House to speak about the career of John Gormley. Below is my Members Statement. To watch the video, please go to my Facebook Page. \(2\) Facebook

- In 1960, Doe and Helen Gormley from Australia and Ireland came to the Battlefords via England with a three year old in hand.
- This three year old began a radio career in high school with CJNB Radio.
- A career in politics and law soon followed.
- On Sept. 9 1998, After a series of conversations with prairie entrepreneur Gord Rawlinson, life changed for this individual.
- The John Gormley Show began on 650 CKOM and 980 CJME covering topics from politics to pop culture.
- His 25 year Rawlco Career encapsulated 6,000 shows, 25,000 guests, and 60,000 callers.
- Everyone from conspiracy Kevin, Jack from Lumsden, the shame, shame, shame lady and yes, members opposite will know – Angry Gormley Listeners.
- John authored two books, one being required reading for all MLA's in Saskatchewan.
- Left Out: Saskatchewan's NDP and the Relentless Pursuit of Mediocrity.
- I recently attended a retirement celebration for John.
- When asked about his legacy, he simply said that is for others to decide.
- Most important to him though, is the familiar Brad Wall phrase to leave things better than you found them.
- On behalf of a grateful Legislative Assembly, you have made your province a better place. Well done, John.

CONGRATULATIONS DR. GIVELICHIAN!

SASKATCHEWAN ECONOMY LEADS NATION IN RETAIL TRADE

Statistics Canada released September 2023 retail trade figures. Saskatchewan ranked first in the nation for month-over-month growth, increasing by 3.0 per cent, or five times the national average to more than $2.1 billion in September 2023 compared to August 2023 (seasonally adjusted).

"Retail trade growth is a key element to ensuring the province's economy continues to thrive," Trade and Export Development Minister Jeremy Harrison said. "Today's increase, coupled with reported growth in investment in building construction, is further proof that Saskatchewan has the sustainably produced resources the world needs."

Do you know your deer?

Mule deer characteristics:

- Black-tipped ropey tail that stays down while running
- White rump visible when tail is down
- Stiff-legged bouncing gait, while running appears to spring
- Forked antlers that do not arise off a main beam

White-tailed deer characteristics:

- V-shaped brown tail with white tip when down, white tail raised while running
- Little, if any, white showing on the rump when tail is down
- Loping, running gait, typical run
- Antlers arise off a main beam

GOVERNMENT INTRODUCES NEW PROTECTIONS FOR HUMAN TRAFFICKING VICTIMS

Legislation Will Help Sever Ties of Financial Coercion

The Government of Saskatchewan introduced legislation today to protect victims of human trafficking from the impact of coerced debts.

“This is about reducing dependency between victims and their traffickers, who often force victims to take out loans on their behalf and then prevent them from repaying them,” Justice Minister and Attorney General Bronwyn Eyre said. “We hope that these new protections will help vulnerable victims rebuild their lives without coerced debts hanging over their heads.”

“The debts coerced upon human trafficking victims and survivors while they are being exploited often create significant barriers as they rebuild their lives,” The Canadian Centre to End Human Trafficking Executive Director Julia Drydyk said. “With the introduction of The Protection for Human Trafficking (Coerced Debts) Amendment Act, Saskatchewan is one of the first provinces that is taking steps to address the financial abuse elements of human trafficking. The centre encourages the Government of Saskatchewan to work closely with survivor experts and front-line agencies to ensure this legislation is implemented in a way that empowers survivors and reduces barriers to accessing support.”

$1.7M

for expanding counselling to children & youth

$1.5M

for ongoing services to adults and families

In total this year, the province is providing Family Service Saskatchewan with $3.2 million in annual funding.

Saskatchewan Party Caucus

Family Service Saskatoon is the newest organization to launch free, rapid access counselling to children and youth and their caregivers. The launch is part of the Government of Saskatchewan's $1.7 million in new annual funding to Family Service Saskatchewan to expand its Rapid Access Counselling Program.

Young people can access support for challenges ranging from stress and depression to family conflict, addictions and domestic violence.

"The ability to quickly connect young people with the health services they need is crucial for improving the wellbeing of our communities across the province," Saskatoon Riversdale MLA Marv Friesen said on behalf of Mental Health and Addictions Minister Tim McLeod. "Today's expansion of rapid access counselling to children and youth is another good example of how we are expanding services so that more people get the help they need, which is an important focus of our new Action Plan for Mental Health and Addictions."

KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A SMOKE ALARM AND A CARBON MONOXIDE ALARM

saskpublicsafety.ca

Saskatchewan!
PUBLIC SAFETY AGENCY

What's the difference? 🤔

🔴 A carbon monoxide (CO) alarm will let you know if high levels of the deadly and odorless gas are in your home. You must have a CO alarm on each floor where there are bedrooms—either inside each bedroom OR in the hallway within five metres of the bedroom. As well, regular maintenance of gas appliances, and inspection of venting systems by professionals, is important.

🔴 A smoke alarm gives you an early warning of a fire so you can get outside quickly. You must have a smoke alarm on each floor of your house, including the basement and between the bedrooms and the remainder of the floor AND inside each bedroom.

What's the similarity? It's important to test both of these alarms in your home, every month! 📅 4 🚨

GOVERNMENT CELEBRATES OPENING OF 10 AFFORDABLE AND BARRIER-FREE HOMES IN SASKATOON

Low-income families in Saskatoon in need of affordable and barrier-free housing now have access to 10 new units in part thanks to a $585,250 investment by the Government of Saskatchewan, City of Saskatoon and Newrock Developments.

"The Government of Saskatchewan is proud to support this project that allows people to live independently in their community," Social Services Minister and Minister Responsible for Saskatchewan Housing Corporation, Gene Makowsky said. "Our government will continue to work with partners to improve housing affordability and better support people and families in greatest housing need."

These 10 new units will provide affordable housing to four low-income families and six families needing barrier-free housing. Support services and tenant placement will be provided by Spinal Cord Injury Saskatchewan (SCIS). SCIS is a non-profit organization that aims to assist people with spinal cord injuries and other physical disabilities through information and systems navigation, rehabilitation services and peer mentorship.

The provincial government is expanding the Saskatchewan Loan Forgiveness for Nurses and Nurse Practitioners program to five mid-sized communities. The newly eligible communities are Prince Albert, Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Yorkton and The Battlefords.

"We need every one of our nurses to serve the needs of residents across Saskatchewan, through their skill, their leadership and their compassion," Advanced Education Minister Gordon Wyant said. "This expansion will help with recruitment and retention efforts and is a positive step forward in addressing the need for more nurses in our communities."

This initiative supports Saskatchewan's Health Human Resources Action Plan by providing incentives to work in areas of the province with high recruitment needs. Previously, eligible applicants must have been working in a designated rural or remote community with a population of less than 10,000.

TIPS FOR WHEN YOUR CHILD IS SICK

As viral season arrives, we know it can be frightening when your child is ill. We encourage everyone to protect themselves and others from illnesses like COVID-19, RSV and Influenza (get immunized, wash hands regularly, stay home if you/your child feels ill).

Here are some tips (https://caringforkids.cps.ca/.../health.../colds\_in\_children):

Keep kids home.

Have them rest. Rest and hydration are very important. Avoid drinks like pop.

Fever is common. Medication is not always needed but can help with other aches/pains. Treat with acetaminophen or ibuprofen (follow bottle directions and/or speak with your pharmacist).

More tips: https://caringforkids.cps.ca/.../fever\_and\_temperature...

Coughing is to be expected. For older children, prop up with pillows to help keep them more comfortable.

Wash hands often. If they cough/sneeze/wipe or smear mucus on a surface, it should be cleaned with soap & water as soon as possible to prevent others from coming into contact with it.
